A Presentation by Rebecca Perrenod — Saturday, Jan. 27, 2024

Location: 286/300 Shore Road, Cornwall, NY 12520

Starting work on a Film or Television set can be disorienting. Studios and locations are often swarming with people - sometimes hundreds - whose departments and roles are unknown to you. The culture, practices, and language of the film world have developed over a century and are truly in a different universe. In navigating this environment, one often relies on the knowledge and helpfulness of one's fellow scenics. But it would be useful to prepare ahead of time, and this course is intended to help you do that.

Rebecca Perrenod is an 829 Charge Artist working in theatre, films, television, and commercials in New York City

Cost of the seminar is $80
